A moment of your time, Mainite!

On page three of this annual is the first full-page color picture ever used in a Lens. At the back of the book is the first index ever incorporated into Maine's yearbook.

Planning began in the spring of 1954, and continued as enthusiasm mounted through the summer. By September the format was established and detailed layouts were started, as every staff member strived to create unique designs.

October and November brought the first whirl of picture shooting, when approximately six hundred seniors and ninety homerooms were photographed.

December blew in a flurry of copy writing, along with the meticulous job of identifying pictures. Paragraphs were written and rewritten in an effort to convey just the right thought in the fewest words. The cover finally emerged from more than a dozen initial designs.

January, February, and March rushed past, as page by page the book was put to bed.

April and May, the period of anxious waiting, crawled by, for no more changes could be made. The work of the staff was finished.

June marked the climax after a year of exacting work at a furious pace. The result is the 1955 Lens, your memory album of this year at Maine.

H. D. ANDERSON

Maine's fine reputation and school spirit have been enhanced through the years by H. D. Anderson. By providing wise judgment and leadership he has kept a constantly increasing student body in harmony with the high ideals and standards which Maine has always enjoyed. Because of Mr. Anderson's constant efforts we can feel proud to say "I go to Maine."

*Best wishes

E. F. STOLTE

Assisting the superintendent with the hundreds of problems arising each day is Mr. Elmer F. Stolte.

Mr. Stolte may be seen throughout the day, in the cafeteria, in the halls, and in the classrooms, personally overseeing numerous phases of school activity. His congenial manner and sincere interest in the student's wellbeing have served to unify the administration and students.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

In these men the township has placed the final responsibility for the formal education of its youth. Today that responsibility includes providing education facilities for hundreds of additional students long before the homes they occupy are on the tax rolls.

To the student this board is the magic by which his diploma opens doors to gainful employment, further education and a more useful life.

Representing the community the board acts as a unit in matters of common concern and coordinates students' aims and activities with those of the citizens.

THE PIONEER

Sounds of the Pioneer staff, hard at work, are gone. In their place are many bi-weekly papers, tucked safely away in a drawer, which will always bring back memories of the year.

All the responsibilities of the editor, Dick Bauer, and his capable staff have been passed on to a new group. "J" class members, who were thrilled with a by line not long ago, now find themselves in top positions.

Under the guidance of Miss Seaberg, these students have succeeded in giving to Maine a complete record of the school year.

Working closely with the staff were Mr. Concidine and the boys in print shop, who did an efficient job on every issue.

THE LENS

This year, for the first time, the Lens was headed by co editors, Pat Lawson and Pat Claffin. The girls were backed by a hard working staff of eighteen under the supervision of Mr M. S. Pool.

First year assistants and second and third year staff members have spent a great deal of time behind the doors of 208 in order to prepare this book for you. The time was well spent, however for the sales rose to a new record of 2100, over 80% of the total enrollment.

The staff hopes that it has reached its goals—to please the student body and to leave Maine with an interesting album of 1951-52.

Through the corridors of the music department the mellowed strains of Beethoven's Eighth Symphony blend with the rhythmic beats of Muskrat Ramble.

This year the music department has added an eight-thousand dollar Consonata Organ to its extensive facilities.

With more than six hundred students and four full-time instructors, plus seven private teachers of individual instruments, Maine's music department is one of the best in the state.

In usual processions on the 1st of May, by the school, went as follows: at 10 A.M. — Company of women, not being in uniform, but in their best dresses, and in the procession, and in one of the six groups, and in sixty-six pieces, and of the processional students.

ANNUAL MESSIAH

The program was conducted by Mr. Alvin M. Hays and the soloists were Mr. Robert Koenig and Mr. Frank C. Hays.
The orchestra was composed of the members of the Vocal Ensemble, the Choral Society, the Organ Department, and the Faculty. The program was a success, both of the vocal and instrumental parts.

OULD you like to make new friends? Do you want to have fun at social events? Do you like to discuss or debate? Are you interested in learning new things? Maybe you're looking for a hobby. Do any of these activities appeal to you? Yes? Then join a club.

There is a club for everyone at Maine. As proof, all Mainites, male or female, freshman or senior, belong to the Boys' Club or the Girls' Club. These organizations sponsor annual events such as the Senior Girls' Faculty Party, the Big-Little Sister Picnic, and the Freshman Mixer. The Boys' Club planned the beautiful Christmas formal, Mistletoe Magic, and the girls thought up original ideas for the hilarious girls' choice dance, Mademoiselle Madcap.

U-rah rah-rah! . . . was a familiar sound at football games, where members of the Pep Club sold candy and hot dogs and cheered the team. At half time advanced members of the Baton Club marched with the band. Some of the players on the team became lettermen. This entitled them to membership in the "M" Club, the privilege of top athletes in each of the major sports.

"A horse is a man's best friend" might well be the motto of the Mounted Mainites, who rode once a week in order to prepare themselves for the spring horse show. One of their big projects was the Thanksgiving dance, Harvest Hustle.

Bowling is popular among members of the Park Ridge and Des Plaines Boys' Bowling Clubs and the Girls' Bowling Club. Each team practiced once a week, and the girls held a club banquet in May.

Walking down the halls to the cafeteria last January, one couldn't help noticing the paintings, sketches, mobiles, and jewelry in the exhibit sponsored by the Art Club. Those who wanted to take pictures instead of paint them were members of the Camera Club.

Can you concentrate? This is a necessity if you want to be a member of the Chess Club. During the first semester, the club ran off a progressive tournament for the first time.

The Radio Club and Demonaires both made good use of their special equipment. Radio Club members used Maine's amateur station while learning fundamentals of radio. The Demonaires gave instruction in the Link trainer, sponsored many instructive, educational meetings, and also a model airplane show to help create interest. The Model Railroaders' Club enlarged the permanent layout organized by the club in previous years.

Science is the by-word in three of Maine's clubs. Weekly groups of the Physics Club made projects dealing with electronics, weather reporting, engineering and photography, besides holding monthly social meetings. Chemistry Club members sent projects to the State Science Fair, and the Biology Club sponsored the Polio Drive, also a project of major importance. One of the highlights of the year was the open house in April, in which all science clubs participated.

Math students from all classes enjoyed Junior Math Club social meet .

Do you speak English? If so, the English Club provided some activities for you. If not, there were many other language clubs to choose from. The outstanding event in the Latin Club was the annual spring banquet, where incoming members were dressed as Roman slaves. Members of the French Club learned more about France, its people and customs through films and discussions. A roller skating party and a beach party were two of the German Club's activities. "Si, Señor, I worked on the spring dance given by Spanish Club. I also saw several movies on Spanish life at our regular meetings.

Debating and discussing controversial issues were popular activities at some club meetings. Good Words Club held discussions, made scrapbooks and favors for hospital patients, and sent baskets of fruit to orphans. The Gavel, formerly Speech Activities Club, debated in the inter-school tournaments, and took part in Student Council assemblies, debating pro and con on the code of ethics. Debates on current events and the Care Drive were activities of the Social Science Club.

"History Honors" are awarded top history students by the Maine Historical Society, which also sponsors the trip to Springfield and New Salem.

Planning to be a homemaker, librarian, business woman, or teacher? You can learn more about these fields in Maine's clubs. The Commercial Club raised, by selling ice cream and candy at basketball games, the money to visit business firms. Etiquette, personality development, and business practices were among the topics discussed at club meetings. Library assistants learned more about their jobs and made new friends at Library Club meetings. Home Economics Club, affiliated with the Future Homemakers of America, planned the cookie sale and the Red Cross Drive. Speakers compared home life here with that abroad. The Future Teachers' Club planned an afternoon, a tea for the faculty, and a field trip to the National School of Education in Evanston.

Have you seen a good play lately? The Theater Club went to the Loop for five plays, and Stagebillers saw four. Stagecrafters' Technicians Club is a group composed of students who worked behind stage building and painting sets, lighting, and doing other technical jobs for the Stagecrafters' productions, the Senior Class Play and the Variety Show.

These are the activities of Maine's thirty-five clubs. Which ones interest you?

55" VARIETY SHOW "DOWN YONDER" IS A BIG HIT

"It's Mardi Gras time down yonder." All of New Orleans celebrated the Mardi Gras in the 55 Variety Show. The toiling slaves, the excited tourists, the busy shopkeepers, and even the street cleaners joined in the spirit of the holidays.

Many hours of hard work were put in by student council members, stagecrafters, and the cast.

Aided by Mr. Sickal and Mr. Hoag, Judy Seese, student director, and Tom Dickinson, stage manager, organized the show.

With enthusiasm the cast rehearsed long hours, while behind the scenes crews painted and built sets.

As a result of the demand for tickets, three performances of the play were given. The cast played to over four thousand people during these three days. This in itself was enough reward for all the time and labor put in to make the show a success.

'SILVER WHISTLE'

"Omar, where are you?"

Who's Omar? Why, he's the rooster who had a supporting role in the senior class play, "The Silver Whistle."

"The Silver Whistle" tells the story of Oliver Erwinter, a young man who upset the routine of an old people's home.

The play was produced with the help of Mr. Sickal and Mr. Hoag.

YOUNG APRIL

In spring a young man's fancy turns to love
This was portrayed in "Young April", a play produced by the Stagecrafters' Club and the junior class

MUSIC MASTERS

The Music Masters Society was founded in 1936 by Mr. Harley to recognize high school students who have displayed marked character leadership, musicianship, and who are willing to serve school, church, and community through music. Today there are over 170 chapters scattered throughout the country extending as far as Anchorage, Alaska.

To be eligible, a student must have served a year in one of the concert groups, maintaining an A grade in music and a C average in his other subjects.

Besides fulfilling the scholastic requirements, the candidate must have demonstrated outstanding ability as a performer.

Standing: Helga Knoilmuller, president; P. L. F. recording secretary, Jane Illeman, sergeant-at-arms; Dick Bauer, sergeant-a-marie; Gay Morrison, social chairman. Seated: Fred Bahr, V. President

QUILL & SCROLL

This society has been active at Maine since 1945. To be eligible, a student must have done superior work on the Pioneer or Lens staff, be in the upper third of his class scholastically, and be recommended by the sponsor.

The Hot Copy Dance and the Publications Banquet are sponsored annually by this honor group.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Industry does not go unrewarded. Mainites who have maintained superior grades find a reward for their efforts in the National Honor Society. Sponsored by the National Education Association, membership in this society is the goal of every ambitious student.

Seniors in the upper quarter of their class are considered. Juniors in the upper five per cent of their class who have had not more than six B's as semester grades are eligible for membership in this group.

Those who qualify scholastically are voted on by the faculty as to character, leadership, and service.

The student council is the students' voice in school government. Through the council the viewpoints of the students and administration are brought closer together, thus promoting a more united school.

Students look forward to election week. During the four days of posters, skits, and speeches, Maine re-echoes with school spirit. Yet behind all the fun and hard work is a seriousness and a realization that the leaders of the council have a great responsibility to the student body.

The council sponsors the Newcomers' Party, the Kick-Off Dance, and the Variety Show. It handles the TB drive, the bundle drive, and the preparation of the student phone book. Hall and parking lot monitors and Lost and Found workers are also under the jurisdiction of the council.

1955, as always, was an above average year for the boys that represented Maine on the athletic fields.

Paving in the shadows of the newly begun Memorial Stadium at tribal o'clock or earlier won second in the West Sudbury Conference with outside the field the cross country team was named its best season in many years.

Winter brought Demons readers but could not stop their winning ways. State champion diver Dick Bachli led the swimmers to their fourth consecutive third place in the state swim meet. On the mat Captain Dick Dutton paced the wrestlers to a six and four record in their first full season under Coach Pawlowski. Although the basketball team had a losing season, the players loomed a constant threat to their opponents and were able to defeat the number one conference team, Downers Grove.

As always, the baseball, track, tennis, and golf teams brought more honors to Maine. The baseball team won first in the conference and were ranked high in the conference. As did the tennis and golf squads, which both placed well up in the state meets. On the pedestal Maine easily added its own with the girls' soph presenting their best team in years.

Next year, and in the years to follow, many more athletic achievements will be added to Maine's records. Some of these will surpass this year's marks others will not. But regardless of what happens 1955 will never be forgotten in Maine's world of sports.

FOOTBALL

Ten returning lettermen plus last year's Fresh-Soph squad combined efforts to produce one of the best football elevens ever seen on a Maine gridiron. Six were named to the all-conference team: Dave Haller, Dud Mitchell, Dave Garry, Tom Dickinson, Gary Becker and Kev O'Brien.

After a conference loss to Alcott, the Blue and White took to defeat Arlington, Rock Creek and title hopes were severely jolted by the Red Devils of Hinsdale, but the Blue and White boys rose to overpower York the following Saturday. Homecoming saw the Demons reach their peak in whipping mighty La Grange '6 to 13. Downers Grove and Glenbard both fell in the following two weeks. When season totals were added, Coach Olson's boys had out-scored their opponents 173 to 100.

Individual honors fell to Dave Haller, who was elected most valuable player; Kev O'Brien, Tom Dickinson, the top backs.

The 1957 team was a good one, taking second in the conference with a 6-1-1 record. Both the freshman and junior varsity elevens had very successful seasons, emerging without a loss in conference play.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Coach John Sebastian

In spite of a high shooting percentage, excellent ball-handling of Dud Mitchell and Milt Nelson, and the sound coaching of John Sebastian, the Maine quintet had a record of four wins and fifteen losses.

Although this wasn't the best team Maine has seen, the Demons had the satisfaction of beating Downers Grove, the conference champs, by ten points. After beating Riverside, Palatine, and Arlington, the quintet led Glenbard until the last 30 seconds. After this game Glenbard dropped from first in the conference to third. Dud Mitchell placed third in conference scoring with 266 pts., and Milt Nelson placed seventh with 243. Maine's shooting percentage was .483, exceptionally high for a seventh place team.

At the end of the season Dud Mitchell was voted All-Conference while Lynn Neal and Milt Nelson received honorable mention. At the winter sports banquet Milt Nelson was named most valuable player and Dudley Mitchell was elected honorary captain.

Coach Kenny Olson's Frosh-Soph boys placed last in conference with a four and fifteen record, but looked continually better as the season progressed.

INTRAMURALS

The intramural sports program this year was one of the most extensive in Maine's history. Added to the intramural program this year were table tennis and wrestling. Hundreds of boys participated in more than six activities planned by O. K. Wilson. The fall sports included golf, football and cross-country. The winter sports included wrestling, table tennis, swimming, basketball and track. The spring sports rounded out the season with baseball and volleyball.

The Personnel Office familiar to all Mainites as the P.O. can look upon 1944 as the busiest year in its history. Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Beard and Mrs. Anderson have issued 200 student working permits and compiled a bulletin for each school morning. Approximately 70 calls a day were made to students who were ill as well as counseling for all students.

Miss Agnes Brady and Mr. Ralph Frost guide the new first year freshmen and aid the energetic sophomores in their choice of classes and help them fit into the Maine pattern through vocational questionnaires and preparation of homeroom guidance materials.

Miss Lula Mae Johnston and Mr. Milo Johnston assist the upperclassmen in their preparation for graduation and a full and useful life by administering aptitude tests, computing class rankings, arranging college day and through occupational counseling.

Clinical advice for students is provided by Miss Fannie Krevitsky and Miss Twyla Freeman.

From the time the doors open in the morning until the last club meeting at night, the Main Office is co-ordinating and directing the work of the administrative and operating staffs at Maine.

Here begins each teacher's day as he turns his card and collects his mail. This office handles requisitions and purchasing for curricular and extra-curricular activities, operates the telephone switchboard, maintains all activities accounts and prepares transcripts of credit.

The Main Office serves the student daily through its operation of the bookroom. Under the direction of Mr. Harold Markworth 2700 students at Maine are supplied each day with the material necessities for a full school life. In addition to selling books and academic supplies, the bookroom also handles personal and athletic equipment.

BIOLOGY
CLASS

The Juniors have glowing memories of . . .
the thrill of being upperclassmen forsaking homework to make the Homecoming float a success cheering for the Junior boys who made varsity teams selling tickets for our first class sponsored play, "Young April" decorations, music, refreshments, and fun at Harvest Holiday the wonderful trip to Washington during Spring vacation excitement of choosing the Student Council officers from our own class the banquet at which many received History Honors beautiful, rustling dresses at the Junior Prom
